RANDY THOMAS SELECTED TO ANNOUNCE 2007 TONY AWARDS FOR RECORD 7TH TIME

Los Angeles, CA (May 21, 2007) – Randy Thomas, one of the most recognized female voices in America, is returning for a record seventh consecutive engagement to announce the 61st Annual Tony Awards. The Tony Awards will be held in New York City on June 10th, and broadcast on CBS.

Thomas can be heard daily on Entertainment Tonight and The Insider television shows, on CBS/Paramount Television.

She is also the first person (male or female) to announce the Tony Awards, Academy Awards, and Emmy Awards all in a row. She also has the distinguished honor as the first and only woman to announce the Academy Awards on six occasions. The American Film Institute brought her back for her fifth time to announce their continuing series of “100 Years...100 Greatest Movies.”

Thomas recently completed her first book, VOICE FOR HIRE-How to Launch and Maintain a Lucrative Voice-Over Career, scheduled for release in Spring of 2008 from Watson-Guption and VNU Publications, with a foreword by Don LaFontaine. She collaborated with New York voice talent and leading voice-over coach, Peter Rofe, to create this definitive guide for anyone thinking about entering the profession of voice-over. Thomas shares her knowledge, 30 years of hands-on experience, and inside view of the highly competitive, challenging yet lucrative voice-over business.

Thomas’ other credits include The American Film Institute Awards (only female voice ever), the Screen Actors Guild Awards, and The Miss America Pageant. She marked her fifth turn at the mike in five years for the American Theatre Wing event and also returned as the voice for the Disney Channel’s “Project Playtime.”

Equally at home in television or radio as she is at live and taped events, Thomas (www.randythomasvo.com) has worked specials for all the major television networks and currently provides the imaging voice for radio stations WLTW (New York), WASH (Washington, DC), WNIC (Detroit), WRRM (Cincinnati), WJYE (Buffalo), K-Hits (Portland), and CHFI (Toronto).
